DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

2. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because the abstract is not in a single paragraph it has multiple periods. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. Claims 1-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

- a. The following claims are vague, indefinite, awkwardly, and confusingly worded:

- i. In claim 1, line 1 Applicant should use "comprising " instead of "wherein" so that the claim is in proper format.

- ii. "the other" in claim 1, line 11. The limitations should be positively recited.
- iii. "adapted to" in claims 1, 4, 5, 10, 14, 20, and 22. This limitation does not positively recite a limitation. It has been held that the recitation that an element is "adapted to" perform a function is not a positive limitation but only requires the ability to so perform. It does not constitute a limitation in any patentable sense. In re Hutchison, 69 USPQ 138.
- iv. "its own" in claim 14, line 3. The limitation should be positively recited with proper antecedent basis.

Allowable Subject Matter

- 4. Claims 1-22 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.
- 5. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: claim 1 recites a shuttle member (41, 42), which is diametrically expandable and contractible making a tapering engagement with an output member and the shuttle member (41, 42) is urged by an urging means (51, 52) in such a way as to tighten the tapering engagement in an axial direction.

Conclusion

- 6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The 892 form discloses some prior art being made of record.
